

STANDING ORDER NO.403/2012.

"JAN SAMPARK" – AN EFFORT TO PROMOTE POLICE-PUBLIC PARTNERSHIP.

We should engage the community in our crime prevention activities, as much as we can, by organizing regular interactions with them. The common perception of the public is that the local level officers are not available to hear their grievances and do not respond to them satisfactorily. We all hear members of public in our offices and do our best to ensure that their complaints are properly looked into. However, it is felt that instead of members of public coming to us, it is better that we reach out to them and meet them in their areas at, preferably a neutral venue like a community center, public auditorium, college/school building etc., if they are found available and suitable. Adequate notice should be given to the members of public in the area stating that Addl. CP/DCP or the Joint CP/Range would be available at a particular time and date where members of public can come and meet them without any prior appointment and air their grievances and submit their complaints and petitions. We can call this initiative 'JAN SAMPARK' and do it systematically so that every area gets covered.

Local issue based 'Jan Sampark Sabhas' or public meetings to dispose of pending complaints can be thought of. Complainants can be informed well in advance about the date, time and venue of such sabhas. It is left to the discretion of District DCsP/Addl. CsP to give a theme to such interactions.

Proper follow up of such complaints and grievances should be done and appropriate record should be maintained in the District office regarding redressal of these grievances.

Progress achieved in organizing these meetings may be communicated to the undersigned through proper channels. Good work done in disposing of pending complaints, resolving local issues etc. will get due recognition.

Commissioner of Police,
